

What is a "right" decision ?

If you want to make sure that you are taking the "right" decision a push sometimes helps. And who is better to push than yourself? If you want to give your career direction a focus and examine your next step then book a session with Stig Seberg and create a clear focused energy to support you in using your resources to the best.

How many times ?

My work stops when you continue. Some people need one session others need more. There's nothing right or wrong - it depends on your focus, energy and resources for the next step. During a session we will focus on what's working for you and what makes your objectives attractive each day. Along the way we focus on elements which supports your energy and effort in order to keep you aware and go even further.

Coaching profile analysis

Depending on your need, we can spice up the coaching dialogue with a Thomas Personal Profile Analysis (DISC), which provides insight to personal strengths and opportunities.

What could be my focus ?

- Finding the right balance/energy level towards acting
- Identify personal energy sources
- Transforming your unconscious talent into a conscious one, so that you can develop it further
- Investigating alternative career opportunities
- Getting focused towards your next realistic goal
- Identifying personal key selling points
- Planning the best next step

What could I experience ?

"As part of my search for the next step in my career, I received a session of personal coaching from Stig Seberg. Stig helped me with two main things. First he helped me with gaining peace and balance right now, so that I could start focusing on, what it is that I really want to do with my life. Secondly he helped me with identifying my personal competences and focus on what really energizes me in my daily work. This helped me to focus on the right next career step for me".

Michael Hedelund, System Design Project Manager, Nokia Denmark A/S

"Stig is extremely good at being a fly on the wall in our conversations. Not just any fly, but one that provides questions that compels me to see my fears and excuses straight in the eye. Without at any time to succumb to the temptation of giving advice, he gently guided me towards obtaining the right questions and answers while keeping my own values intact".
Best regards Anne

"When you want to build a ship, do not call people together to collect timber.

Do not delegate tasks or delegate work.

You must arouse their longing for the wide open sea" .
